Homebush Green: facing Paddock Wood

Level of 35 plus “speeders” below normal levels

A little under 2000 cars a day passed the speed indicator outside Homebush Green on their way towards Paddock Wood. Of these, 8% exceeded 35 mph, which compares to 9% when the Speed Indicator was last at this site.

Several 50 mph plus speeders during peak hours

Around 1% of cars exceeded 40 mph which may not sound like much but this amounts to around 900 cars during the period. There were three cars in excess of 55 mph. Worryingly, one was at 11am. In the 50-55 mph band, there were 17 cars, six of which were in “peak” hours when traffic is heavier and more pedestrians are likely to be around.
